GAMDEN RIVIERE

The United States Court Tennis Association is proud to present the 2023 Real Tennis World Championship.

We thank the International Real Tennis Professionals Association and the International World Championship Committee for their continued leadership of the World Championship race and the game.

We would also like to acknowledge our sponsorship partners, particularly the United States Court Tennis Preservation Foundation, who help make this and other events possible.

Thank you Westwood Country Club for hosting this prestigious event.

Welcome to Westwood Country Club

On behalf of our members, board of governors, and management team, welcome all to the 2023 Real Tennis World Championship. It has only been a year since opening the brand new Westwood Racquets Center featuring Court Tennis after merging with the International Tennis Club of Washington. As a result, we have been fortunate to have hosted several premier events including the 2023 US Ladies Open, U26 Singles and Doubles National Championships and the Van Alen, Clothier and Limb Cups.

It is a true honor to have been selected to host this year's Championship finale. We look forward to the incredible play that will be showcased by the competitors. Welcome also to the participants in the Real Tennis 10-Year Conference and the games of the Grassi Cup.

Please enjoy this week of competition!

WESTWOOD HISTORY

Established in 1954, Westwood Country Club is conveniently located in Northern Virginia. We offer members and their guests a full range of dining and recreational facilities. Situated on 157 acres just minutes from Tysons Corner in Vienna, Westwood appeals to families and business people alike.

The focal points of the club are a beautiful 58,000 square foot club house, a newly renovated Gene Bates' designed premiere championship 18-hole golf course, 10 tennis courts, an Olympic size swimming pool, fitness center and an updated pool/tennis clubhouse.

In the early 1950s, Tyson's Corner, VA, was woods, orchards, a roadhouse and a general store with one gas pump. Vienna was a railroad depot-based small town and its major thoroughfare, Maple Avenue, was actually lined with Maple trees. Alongside Chain Bridge Road between the crossroads and the town, was 200 acres, a barn and a farmhouse known as the Economic Dairy Farm.

In 1952, a local developer named Leon Horowitz bought the farm for $120,000, theorizing that the DC suburbs would expand out Chain Bridge Road. About that time, Horowitz was introduced to the game of golf by one of his salesmen, Ernie Garlem. Horowitz fell in love with the sport and attempted to join several of the local clubs. He was rejected because of his religion. His response was to build his own golf course and the idea of Westbriar Country Club was born.

From 1954–1958 Westbriar Country Club, Westwood's predecessor, was a semi-public golf course. In 1958 the club went private and the clubhouse and pool were built. The owner of the club was Leon Horowitz, a local developer.

The basis for the newly formed Westwood (and a key part of the financing arrangement) was that the club would be operated on a nondiscriminatory basis. At that time all of the clubs in Northern Virginia were "exclusive" in the worst meaning of the word. Westwood survived because of the perceived need for a club whose membership was not exclusive of any person.

Westwood Cares

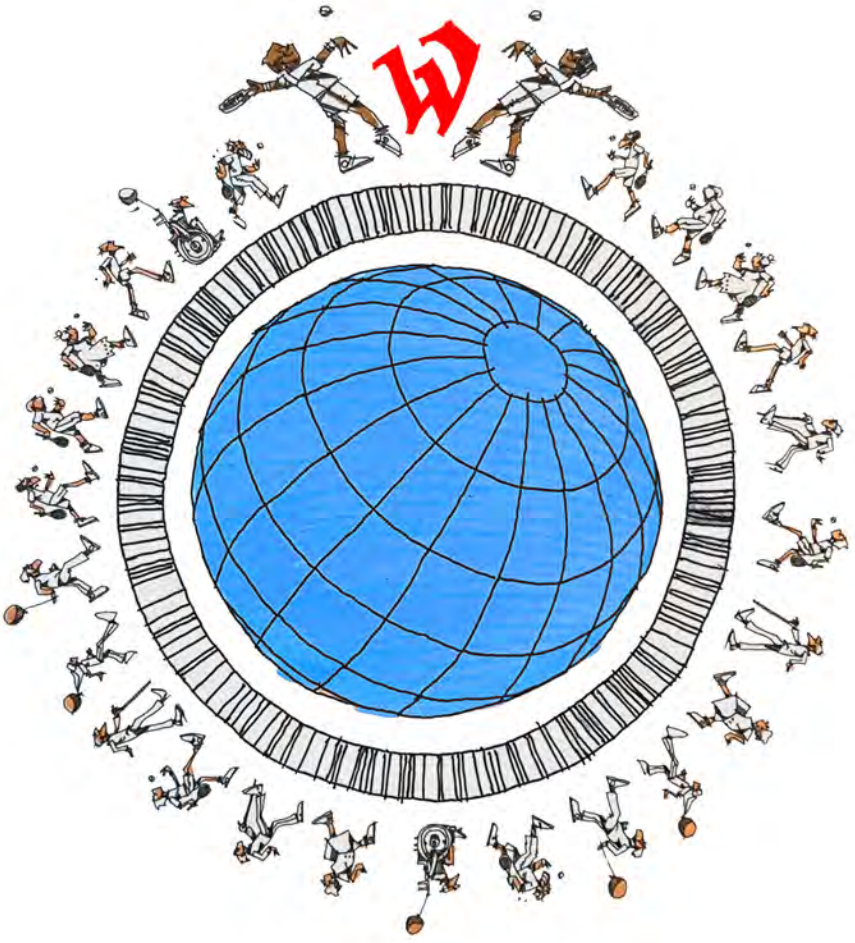

Westwood Cares (“WWCares”) is the philanthropic arm of Westwood Country Club, focused on fulfilling the “Community Leadership” pillar of our Core Values.

WWCares Mission

Reflecting our identity as a family-centered club, WWCares focuses primarily (but not exclusively) on the Vienna/Oakton/McLean communities where most of our members live or work. We focus on issues of food insecurity, access to sports for children who might not otherwise get to participate, and related issues. Also, we will frequently support the efforts of Westwood members who are hosting or sponsoring philanthropic events at the Club.

Westwood Cares Events 2023:

- Westwood Women’s Golf Association 18-Holers (WWGA-18) Annual Charity Tournament- June 20
- Madison High School Food Pantry Volunteer opportunities – June to August 2023
- Vienna CROP Hunger Walk – Sunday, October 1st
- First Responders BBQ at Westwood – Sunday, September 10th
- Golf tournament to benefit SafeSpot, supporting local victims of child abuse – October 16, 2023
- Westwood Employee College Scholarship Fund
- WW Cares cards and offering help for “food trains” for Members’ families experiencing sickness/trauma
- Continue helping Afghan refugees – Westwood employees and families
